VI. COMMENTARY

In a typical year, I plan for the IAVAT Professional Development Workshops and IL FFA Agriscience Fair throughout the spring. This year has been anything but typical, and I found myself planning and conducting these two events all within the month of May. I am looking forward to the conference workshops in June and believe we have a selection of learning opportunities for all teachers. The IL FFA Agriscience Fair included 36 projects this year with exceptional quality. The AET Scoring Rubric was utilized for the first time with great ease and efficiency for both myself and the judges.
